

Company Profile.

Warwick Hamilton Builders (formerly trading as W.A. Hamilton Builders) is a residential construction company based in Whangamata. The company is owned and operated by Warwick Hamilton, a Licensed Building Practitioner and Registered Master Builder. Warwick has been building in the broader Whangamata Region for over 20 years.

Warwick Hamilton Builders bring a range of residential projects to life; from high-end architectural builds to minor renovations. Over the past five years the company has been fully employed, undertaking builds with project values between $700,000 and $1.2m, as well as a number of smaller projects concurrently.

With Warwick Hamilton Builders clients benefit from the team's attention to detail, quality control, excellent project management and personal attention. The team appreciates that every build is highly personal to each client and strive to make the process as simple and customer friendly as possible.

Warwick Hamilton Builders are committed to compliance with current building standards, and keep up with the ever-changing regulations of the building industry. This results in strong record keeping and quality assurance processes that help keep each build organized, on-task and aligned to the client's brief. The team has been together for many years, engaging with a range of highly qualified and quality sub-trades as necessary.

With Warwick Hamilton Builders, you'll get highly skilled craftspeople delivering the best result, for the best price, in the most optimal timeframe possible.
